In conclusion I would state that the society is trying to make a mountain state that the solver, our of a molebill to get sympathy and financial aid from the public, in order that its paid agents might continue to lead the lives of confessed adulterers and would-be blackmailers, unless re-

In Captain Devery's report were the names of many business men in Broome-st, and in the Bowery who were said to have denied that the society's agents were mobbed. Captain Devery also mentioned the arrest of three persons who had been identified by the society's agents as ringleaders in the mob, and there was a record of the discharge of the prisoners in the Essex Market Court yesterday morning, because the agents had refused to make complaints. The conclusion of the Superintendent's report is appended:

DR. PARKHURST'S MEN NOT SURPRISED. When a Tribune reporter informed Frank Moss, the counsel of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, that Superintendent Byrnes had prepared a statement in relation to the riot in Broome-st. in which he discredited the reports made by Mr. Moss, who saw it, and by other officers of the society, who were pursued by the mob and roughly handled by several persons in it, the lawyer said: "Mr. Byrnes must have changed his mind very tions he has said to me: 'It was a bianked out-rage, and if I catch the blanked rascals I will make it hot for them. He has admitted to me also that he knew the name of the officer who refused to help our men when they appealed to him for protection, and that he would procure an explanation from him. He seemed to take a deep interest in the matter at first, and as the honor of his department was at stake we looked for a different result. But the case had not gone far before we mistrusted his motive in taking up the before we mistrusted his motive in taking up the case. He apparently wanted to see our men, and to have his officers know their faces. They have been to Police Headquarters and at the police court against our judgment, but in an honest effort to help the Superintendent perfect his case. They have been scanned again and again by nearly all the police detectives and 'crooks' in the city, and hereafter they might as well wear badges on their overcourts.

and hereafter they might as well wear badges on their overcoats.

"Why did you not appear as complainant against the rioters to-day." was asked.

"We have made no complaint in the case. It was Mr. Byrnes's case from the first; our men were simply his witnesses. He had a representative in court besides Captain Devery, either of whom could have made the complaint. We felt yesterday, when Byrnes, after all his investigation, and with a list of reputable men which I handed to him, who saw the riot, failed to get a single witness to support our men, that the investigation was a farce. We are convinced now that Byrnes meant to saddle the whole case on us, and we should have been hampered from beginning to end in ways which I need not particularize."

"What me work as though Mr. Byrnes's case had not failed."

WHAT MR. MOSS SAYS.

WHAT MR. MOSS SAYS. In addition to his interview, Mr. Moss, as a representative of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, has sent out a long typewritten statement. saying that the reason the society declined to make complaints against the assailants who were saying that the reason the society declined to make complaints against the assailants who were arrested by Superintendent Byrnes was that, as soon as the assault occurred, it decided not to institute criminal proceedings because, when its men had been driven half a mile, passing several policemen who neglected to rescue them, the burden was on the police, either to excuse their delinquency or rigorously to prosecute the offenders. The police requested the society's agents and counsel to attend the trial of the rioters, but the society determined that, while it would assist the police by identifications and testimony, it would not allow the burden of prosecution to be shifted to its shoulders from those of the police. Superintendent Byrnes and the captain of the precinct were represented in court, but, they would make no complaint against the rioters, and they did not produce a single witness, although it was said that Superintendent Byrnes had caused the assault to be investigated. These facts seemed to indicate that the zeal of the police was mere show. The police made the ridiculous claim that there was no way to hold the offenders unless the society made formal complaint, and the prisoners were discharsed when it was the judge's duty to hold them. If the society became responsible for the cases, it would have to depend for success upon the police and the criminal courts, the sympathies of which forces were largely against it, concluded Mr. Moss.

The examination in the case of Isidor Putter, Hyman Sugar and Charles Kramer, who were the men arrested on the charge of mobbing Dr. Parkhurat's agents was set for vesterday morning at the Essex Market Police Court. Justice Ryan asked Captain Wishart, who was one of the agents on whom the alleged assault was made, to make the complaint. He refused, giving the reasons set forth by Mr. Moss in his foregoing statement. Accordingly, the prisoners were discharged.

A largely attended meeting was held last night at Elizath under the auspices of the Citizens' Anti-Ricetrack was presided over by Isaac M. Littell, president of day, Sydney Buxton, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, replying to questions, said that the Government had nothing to add to the reports of the troubles with the Matabele that had appeared in the newspapers, which, he believed, were substantially correct.

Sir James Pergusson, formerly Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, asked if the Government believed that there had been any need-less bloodshed.

Henry Labouchere, who is bitterly opposed to the methods of the British South Africa Company, wanted to know if the Government did not con-sider the massacre of 3,000 men needless blood-

Mr. Buxton answered that he did not regard it as his business to say whether the killing of the Matabele was a massacre or needless bloodshed. He added, however, that he was glad to see that the number of Africans killed was only 500.

He said to-day that the fire originated from an explosion, the cause of which was unknown. He added that there was only one passenger on board, a German named Leibinger, who in the reports received yesterday was said to have been drowned. It is now said, was said to have been drowned. It is now said, however, that both Herr Leibinger and the stewardess, Catherine Carter, were saved. The latest details of the disaster place the number of dead at six. Seven other persons are missing.

Hidalgo & Co., agents in this city of the New-York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, gave the following names of persons saved from the City of Alexandria in addition to the twenty-seven names telegraphed in these dispatches vesterday; Ernest Johnson, P. Brady, M. Brady, M. Cole, O. Rosenqvist, W. Rosenqvist, John A. Godine, Otto Muptes, H. Noore, Miss Kate Carter, stewardess; Ismacio Lafferte, Charles Stenar, G. Canem and William Johnson.

The agents of the New-York and Cuba Steam-ship Line have not been particularly successful in ship Line have not been particularly successful in their efforts to obtain the names of those lost by the burning of the steamship City of Alexandria, A message was received yesterday which announced that the body of the purser, Raiph Waldo Bowen, had been found. The stewardess, Catherine Carter, has reached Havana uninjured. There was that one passenger on board the vessel, and he was saved.

W. H. T. Hughes, manager of the line, yesterday afternoon gave out the following announcement:

"According to a careful comparison of the names received with the crew-list of the ship, all the officers, with the exception of the purser, are accounted for. There are lifteen names among the crew missing, but we have seven names that are so mutilated by the cable that they cannot be understood. This would leave a balance of eight unaccounted for, We have no further news of the disaster to give. The captain and crew will probably leave Havana to-morrow by the steamship Seneca."

RIOTING BY SOCIALISTS IN VIENNA. A MEETING OF GERMAN LIBERALS ATTACKED

THE POLICE.

Vienna, Nov. 2.—German Liberals met in a public hall here to-day to discuss the party's attitude toward Count Taaffe and suffrage reform. Only persons who had been invited were admitted. The proceedings had hardly begun when 500 Socialists proceedings had hardly begun when 800 Socialists stormed the hall. They burst in the doors and marched down the aisles, shouting for universal suffrage. A dozen policemen who were called from the street ordered the Socialists to leave the hall, but without effect. A police company then charged the intruders with drawn sabres. Most of the German Liberais had left the hall by this time, but the Socialists still refused to go. After a fight at close quarters they were driven out. Forty-five Socialists and eight policemen were wounded.

SUMMONED TO FORM THE AUSTRIAN CABI-

Vienna, Nov. 3.—Emperor Francis Joseph this evening requested Prince Windischgraetz to form a cabinet.

Count Taaffe met the leaders of the Polish and Conservative Deputies to-day to confer with them as to the political situation. He commended Prince Windischgraetz as the best man to succeed him. The Prince, he said, enjoyed the confidence of the conflitton parties in the Reichsrath, besides being on good terms with the Hungarian politicians.

1:30 o'clock in the morning to make a speech. In his remarks he called attention to the fact that it would have been more fitting to have included Ireland in the tenst to Great Britain and her colonies, for the reason that it was the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. He did not complain because Ireland was not represented by a separate building, but he much resretted that she had missed the opportunity of displaying her arts and manufactures separately, as did the various States of the Union. The Lord Mayor added: "When I had concluded Director-General Davis thanked me, and said that only ruling bations were reconfized in the toast list, but he was perfectly courteous and friendly, as was everybody else."

MILD DYNAMITE SCARE IN LONDON. THE SUPPOSED BOMB WAS A SHELL FOUND ON A BATTLEFIELD, AND ITS OWNER HAD

THROWN IT AWAY London, Nov. 3 .- "The Globe" (Conservative) to-day printed a story of an alleged attempt to blow up Westminster Bridge with a dynamite bomb. The report caused not a little excitement for a while, but in the course of the day the of a dynamite plot was proved to be without foundation.

The waterman took the parcel into his boat, and was horrified to find that it contained a conical iron bomb weigh ing about seven pounds. He promptly filled a bucket with water, and immersing the bomb in it bastened with the object to Scotland Yard. The nastened with the object to Scotland Yard. The officials there jumped to the conclusion that there was to be a repetition of the dynamite outrages which terrorized London a few years ago. The bomb, still in the bucket of water, was placed outdoors, several detectives being detailed to guard it, and word was sent to Colonel Majendie, the inspector of explosives, who soon arrived on the scene.

spector of explosives, who soon arrived on the scene.

The excitement caused by the finding of the bomb rapidly subsided when all the facts in relation to it were learned. Detectives soon found the former owner of the bomb, who readily made an explonation. He had picked it up on one of the Franco-Prussian battleitelds a long time ago and had kept it as a relic, although he was always afraid of it, and desired to get rid of it, thinking it might some day explode. Last Weinesday he determined to throw the thing away. He carried it to Westonssed the bomb, as he supposed, into the river, the apparently did not throw it far enough out, and in falling it landed on the buttress, where its finding resulted in starting a mild dynamite scare.

MME. BERNHARDT WOULD NOT MODIFY IT.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Sarah Bernhardt has been advertised to open an engagement at the Renaissance Theatre here on Monday in "Les Rois," a drama by Jules Lemaitre. The outline of the plot was published several days ago. Count Hoyos, Austrian Ambassador, thought that the principal scene suggested too strongly the death of the Austrian Crown Prince, Rudolph, and he protested to the Government against the production of a play whose materials evidently had been found in the tragedy of Meyerling. The Government informed Mme. Bernhardt and M. Lemaitre that the scene designated especially by Count Hoyos must be medified. Both replied that this would be impossible. Thereupon the play was interdicted.

The account of the interdiction of "Les Rois" was published to-day in the "Counde." Maurice Grau, Mme. Bernhardt's manager, however, says that he has heard nothing of it, and the officials at the Renaissance Theatre deny that they have received any notice of a postponement or interdiction. by Jules Lemaitre. THE STATEN ISLAND FIGHT.

SEPARATE WARRANTS FOR THE ARREST OF FITZGERALD AND HIS AIDS.

THEY SURRENDER THEMSELVES AND ARE AD-MITTED TO BAIL-A THAT BETWEEN W. TRAVERS JEROME AND

Nowhere in the neighborhood of New-York is there was greater than on any previous day of the campaign. The persecution of Republicans who have, in the face of repeated threats, dared to do their duty developed a new phase. District-Attorney Fitzgerald, Excise Commissioner George Van Name and Edward Lawson, who were arrested last week charged with stuffing ballot-boxes, broke faith with Justice Cornell by not appearing before him in ac-cordance with the adjournment of their case on Wednesday. Other sensational features developed later in the day.

The most decided surprise to Nicholas Muller's subservient followers yesterday was the appearance of W. Travers Jerome, the well-known and popular young criminal lawyer of this city, as counsel for David J. Jones and Bester A. Scofield, who are and Lawson. Mr. Jerome's appearance as counsel was a disagreeable surprise to the Muller men. His direct, forcible words and his serious manner im pressed them unpleasantly.

On Wednesday Justice Cornell adjourned the until 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Fitzgerald, speaking for himself and his associates in the alleged law-breaking, threatened then not to come to Justice Cornell's court, at Clifton, unless he that it be noted that he appeared as counsel for the complainants.
